An Opinion

The American newspaper's duty is to express an opinion on candidates seeking office.

This week, on our editorial page, we comment on certain candidacies.

Our opinions are based on what we earnestly feel is best for Andover, from the viewpoint of a community affected by state and nation problems which face us all, now and in the years ahead.

For this reason, the TOWNSMAN, this week commends to the favorable attention of the voters the following:

Re-election of Gov. Sargent and his running mate for Lieutenant Governor Donald Dwight.

The return to another term for Congressman F. Bradford Morse.

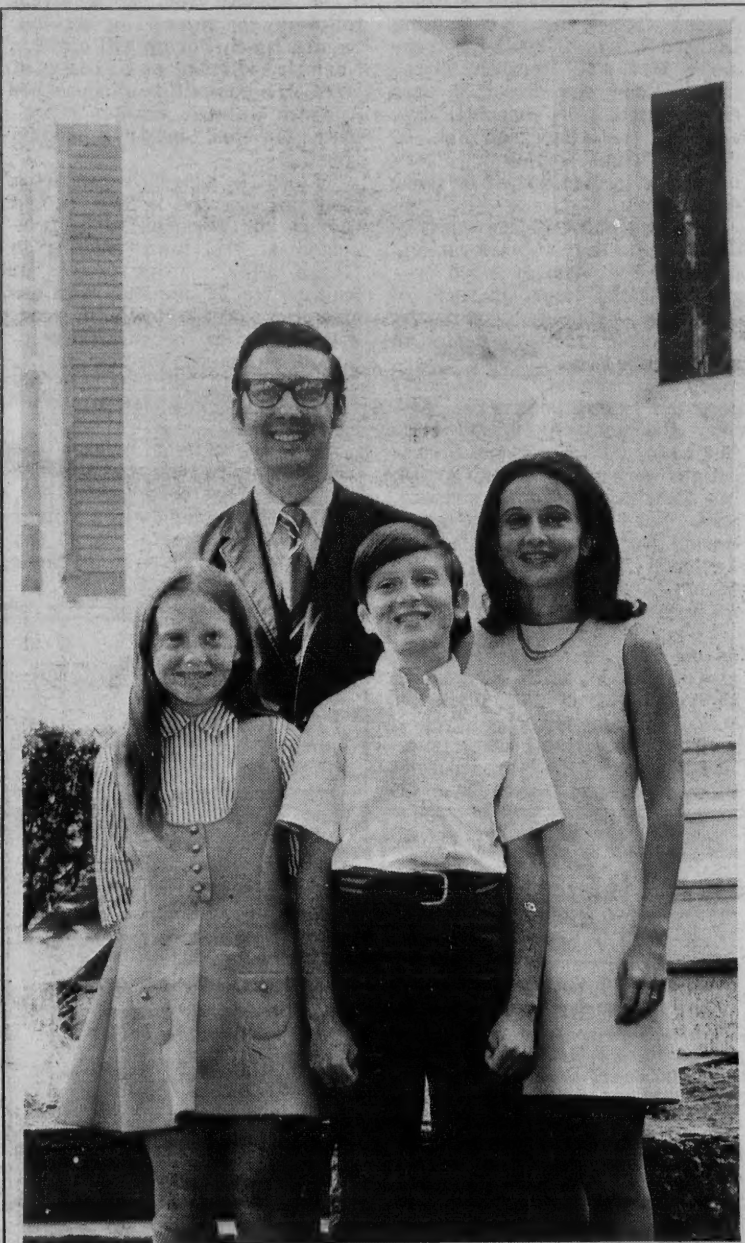

Re-election of Senator William X. Wall in the new senatorial district.

Election of William G. Arvanitis in the 17th Essex district which includes precincts two and four in Andover.

Re-election of Paul W. Cronin in the 13th Essex district which serves precincts one, five and six in Andover and all of North Andover.

Interest In Local Contests

Contests with particular local interest are expected to lure a good percentage of Andover's 11,653 eligible voters to the polls in Tuesday's state election.

While Republican and Democratic town committees are working for endorsement of U. S. Senate and state constitutional office candidates, local interest centers on representative races in the 13th and 17th Essex districts and in the Fourth Senatorial district, of which Andover is a new member.

In the 13th district, which is made up of Precincts one, five and six of Andover and all of North Andover, Rep. Paul W. Cronin is being challenged by James P. Hurrell of North Andover. Cronin has been serving in the House since 1967. Hurrell had served a term in the legislature and was defeated by Cronin in 1968, following re-districting.

In the 17th district which includes precincts two and four in Andover with the Tower Hill section, or Ward five, in Lawrence, incumbent Lawrence P. Smith is being contested by William G. Arvanitis.

Arvanitis, a Lawrence school teacher, was nominated on stickers as a Republican, in the September primary. Smith has served for many years and is currently chairman of the committee on counties in the House.

In the Fourth Senatorial district,

Sen. William X. Wall, faces Atty. Helen M. Comeau of Andover. The district is new this year and places Andover in with Lawrence, Tewksbury and Billerica. Sen. James P.

Rurak who still serves North Andover, was redistricted out of Andover and replaced by Wall.

Gillette Retains Top Spot On Tax List

The Gillette Toiletries Co., one of Andover's newest industries, remained its top taxpayer, according to a list compiled by the board of assessors.

For 1970, the building in the Lowell Junction Industrial area, was assessed for $6,961,000 and paid taxes of $320,206.

In a report submitted by Assessor William H. Russell to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, it was reported that the total assessed value of property for 1970 was $188,499,500 an increase in total assessed value of real estate of $12,943,500 over 1969.

The personal property figures also increased, according to Russell, by $649,400 to a 1970 total of $7,829,100.

Residential property remains the town's major source of tax revenue. In 1970, 8,060 units were valued at $188,499,500, rep-

$23,000 Saving On New School

The West School Building committee, meeting Tuesday night, negotiated with the general contractor and gained for the town a $23,000 plus saving.

Negotiating with the architect and the general contractor, the committee was able to save on several items as it reviewed the construction schedule of the now nearly completed school.

Items in the original contract called for such items as temporary heat, which was not needed and all of the concrete testing account was not expended.

The negotiated agreement will thus return to the town additional funds from the West school account. It is anticipated that there will be additional funds, once the building is complete.

The committee expressed displeasure that the seats in the

President Of REACH To Speak

On Sunday, Nov. 1, at 11:15, following the morning service, South Church Forum will sponsor Norman Viehman, president of REACH, a committee of concerned Andover citizens, anxious to promote low and middle income housing.

REACH is presently preparing plans for low and middle income housing for Andover to be presented at the town meeting in March, 1971. Their project or projects, to be designed with the amenities of the town in mind, will attempt to increase the mixture of citizens in the community. All interested persons are invited.

The gap between teenage and adult unemployment has widened during the past decade. In 1960, youth unemployment was 3.3 times adult unemployment. Youth unemployment had risen to 5.5 times adult unemployment in 1969.

Scouts Advanced

The weather could not deter Troop 75 who held their advancement ceremony on Saturday, Oct. 24 at Deer Jump Reservation. After two days of heavy rain, the troop organized the camp site for the "dubbing-in" ceremony of all new scouts. Fathers watched their sons advance in rank by candlelight services.

The evening started off with a father-son dinner of barbecued pig prepared by the boys utilizing their scouting craftsmanship over a hot coal pit fire. It was a 'first' for the boys for barbecuing a whole suckling pig. All enjoyed a rare and enjoyable dinner.

Committeeman Paul Reynolds headed the candlelight services after the dinner. The ceremony started with the posting of the colors, followed by the recital and meaning of the scout oath, scout law and scouting spirit. Scoutmaster Louis Galbiati then read the advancement qualifications for the tenderfoots who were dubbed in by Committeeman James Smyth with the lighting of the candles. The awards for the higher ranks were presented to the boys. This was followed by singing and the guitar playing of scouts Mark Costello, Mark D'Annolfo and Robert Gildea.

Children To Solicit For UNICEF

Well over 1,000 Andover children will be making their "Trick or Treat" rounds in behalf of the United Nations Children's Fund this Halloween.

The area youngsters will be participating in an inter-national program to raise funds for UNICEF in order to help feed, clothe and provide medical care for thousands of their less fortunate brothers around the world.

In addition to scores of individual little ones, the children from area youth organizations will also be involved. Included in the program are the children of Saint Robert Bellarmine's parish Confraternity of Christian Doctrine; the Andover Blue Birds, Campfire Girls and the area Boy Scouts.

The public will be able to identify the participating children by their bright orange collection boxes which are clearly marked with the UNICEF name and symbol. Any youngsters who are interested in participating but have not received their collection kit, may still do so by contacting Mrs. Dennis E. Burke at 6 Dale St.

PA HELPS SOUTH SCHOOL with obstacle course, other recreational possibilities in the woods behind the elementary school. PA students cut the logs, PA teacher George Edmonds takes his chances holding for a South School sledge hammer.

Volunteers Expand Playgrounds

(A TOWNSMAN News Feature)

Phillips Academy students presently are at work expanding the playground possibilities of two of Andover's public elementary schools.

In a community service project at South School, PA student power has already made a dent -- with sledge hammer, axe and saw -- while the second project, a classroom architecture assignment, is still in the drawing board and model stage.

At South School, the 120 students of PA's Johnson, Taylor and Adams dormitories (the West Quad South "Cluster") are developing the recreational and educational possibilities of the woods behind the elementary school.

A group of students from the PA Cluster spend Wednesday afternoons in a year-long project to clear underbrush, build a pine log obstacle course and other physical challenges. They plan to develop a natural amphitheatre and "outdoor classrooms" with log seats, work out a nature trail with the school's Audubon teacher, and generally extend the school's learning and recreation potential into the lovely oak and pine woods. Picnic tables are part of the scheme, to encourage community use of the recreation area, when it is complete.

An unusual team from up and down the age spectrum is involved in the project. The PA students are working with the blessing and direction of South School's Jack Coyle and in cooperation with the School's PTA, which lends fathers for Sunday work, and aims to provide some play apparatus. The students work under the leadership of their PA housemasters whose children are South School students: the 10th, 11th and 12th grade boarding school students in turn are providing leadership to 5th and 6th grade students from South, who work with the older boys on Wednesday afternoons.

South School Principal Jack Coyle has been interested in the possibilities of the woods for the school and community since he came to South last year. He told the TOWNSMAN that involving the 5th and 6th graders in woods playground project with the older boys has a number of educational advantages; one is that kids who have actively worked to build a school and community recreational resource will appreciate and respect it; as they grow older, they are likely to act as a positive force countering the trend toward increasing teenage vandalism.

Why is a group of Phillips Academy students involved in the South School Woods Project?

Andover's boys' boarding school founded in the 1770's, is trying new methods to build a sense of community among its student body in the 1970's. In a shift to decentralization, each student becomes a member of a neighborhood, or "cluster", composed of 120 students and six or seven faculty families who live in adjacent buildings. The student lives somewhere in the same cluster for the upper three years of his experience at PA, to develop closer relationships than is usually possible for boys who are shifted to different buildings and house-master relationships each year. As students become seniors in their cluster, they share some of the housemaster's responsibility for the welfare of younger students.

Among the cluster activities which build the sense of community, are community service projects.

Athletic, social and educational cluster activities, help to build a sense of community, but community service projects seem to have a special potential, for this, and satisfy the normal young person's desire to spend some time doing something that counts, a tangible and worthwhile achievement.

Kelly Wise, head of PA's West Quad South Cluster, told the TOWNSMAN that the scope of the South School Woods Project make it an especially valuable community service commitment for the cluster.

The community service effort has been organized by PA Teachers George Edmonds and Timothy Calard.

Edmonds said that the original objective was a simple one -- to interest and assist South School in taking advantage of the woods. New ideas have come from teachers, administration, PTA and students, to push it forward, and the Cluster will be delighted to help the school carry them out.

After showing their original ideas to Bancroft administrators and students for criticism and to get more ideas, the class will put the best designs together into a proposal, which they hope to "sell" to the Andover school system for use at Bancroft, possibly elsewhere.

If the proposal should be approved, the rest of the class assignment is the actual construction of the design, or as much of it as can be done by the PA students' hand labor.

School administrators say they have no intention of committing the schools to any playground design except a superior one, but Bancroft principal Earl Simon and Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert are encouraging the effort. Seifert has met with the class, and architecture students told the TOWNSMAN he gave them a green light to "design with just the kids in mind, not the parents, or the school officials." The class has visited all Andover playgrounds, and MacMurray and Teach Fellow Fernando Gonzalez have taken them on field trips to Boston and Cambridge to observe and criticize

Auto Racing Program At Y

Big-time auto racing on a miniature scale is the feature of a new YMCA program for youngsters 8 to age 15. The new program, which begins December 11, 1970 at the Lawrence YMCA, is the YMCA Johnny Lightning 500 Raceway program.

According to F. Lewis Brown, the Lawrence YMCA is one of more than 900 YMCAs around the country taking part in the new program. One of the key features is a miniature auto racing competition beginning at the local level and escalating up through Region-wide, and finally a National Championship.

The racing will be done on Johnny Lightning 500 Le Mans Raceway sets which have been donated free to the YMCAs by the manufacturer, Topper Corp., Elizabeth, N.J. The company is also furnishing all prizes, including the Grand Prize to the National Champion. Grand Prize is an all-expense paid trip for the winner and his family to the 1971 Indianapolis Speedway 500 Mile Memorial Day Classic. Other prizes will be awarded to winners at every stage of the competition.

"The YMCA has always tried to build its programs and services around the needs and interests of the people it serves," Mr. Brown said. "Interest in auto racing makes it the second most popular sport in America today, and probably number one among kids. That interest includes collecting and swapping miniature racing cars, racing them on scale model raceways and, of course, in auto racing itself. So, it's only natural that the YMCA should, in its traditional fashion, cater to that interest."

Mr. Brown said that the program is open to all YMCA members under the age of 15. Registration will begin Nov. 1 and the actual competition on Friday, Dec. 11 at 6:30 p.m. at the YMCA. There is no registration fee or other charges, he added.

The competition will be in two stages, Mr. Brown explained. First will come the city wide competition. City wide winners receive a prize and are eligible to compete against other city wide winners for the Regional title.

Regional Competition will be a postal tournament. All city wide winners in the Northeast Region will race on the same day. Winning results will be mailed to National Council of YMCA headquarters in New York, where all results will be compared and a winner determined.

The region winners from the eight YMCA Regions will be brought together in a city to be announced sometime in May where they will race against each other to determine the 1971 YMCA National Johnny Lightning 500 Champion. In addition to the Grand Prize, trophies will be presented to the winners and the local YMCA sponsoring them.

More information on the program can be obtained by contacting Mr. Brown at the Lawrence YMCA.

Candidates To Debate

Candidates for the representative post in the 13th Essex District will debate Friday, Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. at the People's Choice Coffee House at the Unitarian-Universalist church on Lowell street.

Rep. Paul W. Cronin Republican representative serving the district and his challenger, James P. Hurrell of North Andover will debate the issues, speaking initially, then responding to a question and answer period.

The 13 Essex district comprises Precincts one, two and six in Andover and all of North Andover. Both speakers represented Andover prior to redistricting through which Hurrell was defeated in his bid for re-election by Rep. Cronin.

By 1980, the number of women at work, 37 million, will double the 1950 figure, 18 million.

QUESTION NO. 4
PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

YES ☐ NO ☐

SUMMARY
The proposed amendment to the Constitution amends the existing constitutional provisions which direct the division of the Commonwealth into 240 representative districts and 40 senatorial districts. It provides for a census of the inhabitants of each city and town in the Commonwealth in the year 1971 and in every tenth year thereafter. The census in 1971 is to be the basis for determining the representative and senatorial districts for the ten-year period beginning January 1, 1975. Each subsequent census shall be the basis for determining the districts for each ten-year period following each census, so that the census in 1981 will determine the districts as of January 1, 1985, etc.

The amendment provides that the house of representatives shall consist of two hundred and forty members and the senate of forty members. In its first regular session following each census, the Legislature shall divide the Commonwealth into two hundred and forty representative districts of contiguous territory and forty senatorial districts also of contiguous territory. Each representative district shall contain, as nearly as may be, an equal number of inhabitants according to the census. Each senatorial district shall also contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants according to the census. A representative district shall not unite two or more counties, towns, or cities, or parts thereof, or a city and a town, or parts thereof, in one district unless the same is unavoidable. Further, no town of less than six thousand inhabitants shall be divided in forming representative districts. It is also provided that the County of Dukes County and Nantucket County shall each be a representative district, notwithstanding the foregoing. The senatorial districts, each of which shall elect one Senator, shall be formed without uniting two counties or parts of two or more counties, unless the same is unavoidable.

Each representative shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he is chosen at least one year immediately preceding his election, and each senator shall be an inhabitant of the district for which he is chosen at the time of his election and shall have been an inhabitant of the Commonwealth for at least five years immediately preceding his election. Any representative or senator who ceases to be an inhabitant of the Commonwealth shall cease to represent his district.

The amendment also provides that the Legislature (1) may by law limit the time within which judicial proceedings may be instituted calling in question any such division and (2) shall prescribe by law the manner of calling and conducting elections for the choice of representatives and of ascertaining their election. Finally, the amendment annuls the existing constitutional provisions with respect to apportionment of representative and senatorial districts, although those provisions will remain in effect until January 1, 1975.

Precanceled Stamps To Be Available

Five Christmas postage stamps being issued this year will be available in precanceled form throughout New England. Postmaster General Winton M. Blount announced today.

One sheet of stamps, featuring four antique Christmas toys, will communicate the joy and happiness of Christmas. Another sheet, one stamp of the nativity, underscores the significance and meaning of Christmas.

The colorful array of 6¢ stamps for use on Yule mail will be available starting Nov. 6, one day after the first day ceremonies are held at the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C.

Because New England postal customers were so cooperative in handing their mail in "local" and "out of town" packets last year, it was decided to make the 1970 Christmas stamps available in precanceled form throughout the area.

Use of precanceled stamps speeds the mail by eliminating one whole phase of processing.

The precanceled form of the Christmas stamps also will be available in 68 selected cities outside New England.

The names of the cities will not be overprinted, as was done last year.

The four stamps - each picturing a toy of yesteryear - depict charming bits of Americana which are swiftly becoming prized collectors' items and museum pieces.

The fifth reproduces "The Nativity" by Lorenzo Lotto, 16th Century Italian painter. This painting hangs in the National Gallery of Art.

The stamps were printed by gravure at the Gilford Press, Gilford, Conn., which was leased by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and was manned by bureau personnel. This was necessitated by delayed delivery of the bureau's gravure press.

The four 19th Century toys stamps were painted and designed by Stevan Dohanos, chairman of the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee. He calls them "toys in the attic."

One is a tin and cast iron locomotive, which was adapted from artwork by Charles Hamming in the "Index of American Design," a collection at the National Gallery of Art.

The three additional designs - a horse, a doll carriage and a mechanical tricycle - are from "The Golden Age of Toys," by Fondin and Remise.

Red, yellow, blue and black are combined to produce the stamps, which are horizontal.

The precancel is achieved by two curving lines.

"The Nativity" by Lorenzo Lotto (c 1480 - 1556) is converted into a vertical stamp that was designed by Howard C. Mildner, of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Lotto was one of the most productive painters of his time and is numbered among the masters of the Renaissance.

The stamp shows Joseph and Mary kneeling outside the manger, peering down at the Christ Child.

Brownish tones dominate the stamp, which will be printed from red, blue, yellow and black cylinders. Vertical left in blue is "U.S. 6 cents Christmas." Across the bottom, also in blue, is "National Gallery of Art. Lotto."

Two fine precancel lines in black are applied horizontally.

The print order is for 875 million Nativity stamps. A similar number of the quartet stamps will be printed. Approximately half of each will be precanceled.

Requests for specific stamps will be honored by the U. S. Postal Service. Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C. 20013.

A close-fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed.

The envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 6-cent Christmas Stamp." Cover requests should be postmarked no later than November 5.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS OF ANDOVER PRECINCTS 2 & 4

On November 3rd, you will decide whether to vote for Smith or Arvanitis as your State Representative. The incumbent attempted to keep my name off the ballot; he tried to quietly ease into another term without discussing the issues. He failed in both tactics.

Your vote for my opponent will perpetuate his "family system" of government - one of the Smiths, by the Smiths and for the Smiths.

It will continue the reign of a professional politician who placed at least seven members of his family in high-paying county positions, who voted to deny you the right to vote on the house cut issue, and whose attitude is "so what". It will result in another two years of irresponsible spending in county government; spending paid for by your real estate taxes.

The issue in this election is the quality of representation which you deserve. I feel you should have been allowed to vote on the house cut issue; I believe Andover's gerrymandering was an issue worth fighting against. If elected, I will strive to represent all the people, and I will seek and respect your feelings on the issues.

I thank you for your interest and encouragement during my campaign, and I ask you to give me the opportunity to serve you.

Very truly yours,

William G. Arvanitis

Weaving At Fair

A special feature of the Teen Table at the Ballard Vale United Church Fair to be held Friday, Nov. 13 and Saturday, Nov. 14 will be hand-woven belts in original designs and colors.

These belts are woven on an Inkle loom copied from an old Scottish design. The work inkle meant fireside or hearthside, which is where these looms were used on long winter evenings. One unusual feature of these looms is that the belt has a warp pattern -- only the colors of the warp influence the design. Therefore the designs are somewhat limited.

The Misses Evelyn and Alice Itz, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Itz of 6 Twinbrook Circle, will demonstrate this loom as both young ladies are familiar with this craft and helped make the belts.

The Fair hours are 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday with a snack bar by the Youth Fellowship (chowders to be made by Mrs. Anthony Lumenello and committee) and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday with the snack bar by the Women's Guild with Mrs. James Letters in charge. The men of the parish will serve a Baked Beans and Ham supper from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. with Leo Skellehock and William Nicoll as co-chairmen. Reservations should be made by calling 475-2506 or contacting the ticket chairman, Mrs. Wendall Matteson, guild president.

Co-chairmen of the fair are Mrs. Alfred Webb and Mrs. William Nicoll. Other chairmen are as follows: country store, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sharpe; candy, Mrs. George Davison; bakery, Mrs. Russell Hall and Mrs. William Batchelder; knit items and aprons, Mrs. Robert Mears, Mrs. Peter Smith and Mrs. Ernest Hall; Christmas decorations, Mrs. Arnold Itz; gifts and novelties, Mrs. Phillip Johnson and Mrs. Willard Myers; jewelry, Mrs. Edna McIntyre and Miss Judith Webb; teen table, Miss Robin Salter; children's gift table, Mrs. George Nason; children's grabs, Mrs. Charles Fowle; plants, Mrs. Erwin Livingston. Decorations are under the supervision of Mrs. William MacAfee.

years in both the House and Senate, having had Lawrence and Methuen in the old senate district. For Atty. Comeau, it is her initial bid for public office.

There are several questions on the ballot. The referendum deals with taxation of property, the Vietnam war, size of the House and are explained on page 20 of today's TOWNSMAN.

There is an additional question on the ballots of Andover and North Andover voters. Those in the 13th district have a vote on a question which would instruct the representative in that district to either approve or disapprove a cut in the size of the House.

Polls will be open on Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Electronic voting machinery will again be in operation at all six precincts. Town Clerk Elden R. Salter requests all voters to use the electronic punch cards properly in order to facilitate returns.

Bent or mutilated cards will not go through the computer, thus hampering operations.

how well different types of playgrounds serve their clients -- the kids. They say they're trying to design simple equipment which will challenge kids to reach, explore, imagine, and are shying away from equipment that is so specialized it can be used for only one purpose.

The project's benefit to the architecture class, MacMurray explained, is to help the students learn that an architect's job is not just to design in a vacuum, but follow up with "selling" his idea, and learn, by building it themselves, the importance of practical, constructible design.

If the design is successful, the students will have the satisfaction of giving the community good playground equipment, with consultants fee and much of the labor cost thrown in.

School Building Timetable

The school administration laid out a time schedule for the new school construction necessary from 1970 - 1980, and got school committee endorsement for the principle of "buying space with portable walls" instead of specialized construction that dedicates a room or area forever to one use.

Why? It's the cheapest way to buy well-built space, and allows flexibility of later use. He got no argument from the committee.

The superintendent submitted a construction time schedule to develop a secondary educational park for grades 7 - 12 at the Shaw-sheen Road site, and an alternate plan calling for construction of a 2,500 pupil middle school by 1977. Both plans call for a high school addition by 1975, and both eventually phase out East Jr. High.

The secondary educational park plan, preferred by the administration, calls for completion of the High School Addition by 1975, including space for 800 - 1,000 additional students and a swimming pool for joint town - school use. 1977 completion of a core facility to serve as both a public school and full community resource center, and 1980 completion of a facility to house East Jr. High students plus 1,000 additional secondary students expected.

Supt. Dr. Kenneth Seifert asked the press to clarify for the public the distinction between a one-site educational park for all schools, a concept which the citizen's site concept committee studied and rejected this past year, and an educational park for secondary students; which Seifert said is exactly what the site concept committee's report recommended; he has received phone calls indicating that some townspeople thought the administration was recommending the idea which the site committee had rejected.

The public school - community core facility drew most of the interest and discussion, with Committee woman Mrs. Cole pushing to put the swimming pool into the facility and Members Dr. Daniel Frishman and Frank Hill trying to take a Student Activity Center out of it.

The administration's plan calls for an auditorium which can be sectioned off for smaller groups but would house 2,000 - 2,500 at capacity. A media center would contain the secondary school library, AV materials and production facilities plus the computer center and seminar rooms. The core facility would also contain a fine arts center, a music center and, in the eyes of the administration, a Student Activity Center with some eating facilities.

Frishman and Hill said they were not trying to cut down the space requirements of the facility, but wanted the space provided "to have a more functional aspect than to be dedicated to relaxation."

William King snorted that in an educational complex for 5,000 kids it isn't frills to dedicate some spot for them to get together between activities, and Chairman Dr. Richard Katz pointed out that for either school or community use, there should be some sort of facility where people can go and sit down, and some sort of feeding facility. Teacher Gerald Lake, the member representing the Andover Education Association, later pointed out that such a facility could serve a very educational use in providing for the kind of informal discussions by which a good deal of education, and school business is carried on, as well as relaxation.

As for the swimming pool, administration and committee members agree that it is an educational and recreational essential for the town. Mrs. Cole gave way to Principal Philip Wormwood's argument that including it in the high school addition plans would give it to the town earlier, and would position it more functionally, with its locker rooms also available to gym users. And besides, Frishman pointed out, no matter where it's located, the pool, like all school facilities, is completely available to the community. Student member John Wooten appeared mystified that school construction didn't stay ahead of the school population increase. "Why don't you build schools that will be big enough for more years ahead?" School committee members laughed, said it was a good question, but pointed out that communities could never be persuaded to buy space that wasn't going to be used right away, -- and besides, the school population keeps increasing beyond every prediction.

Reduction Of Rent Due

Governor Francis W. Sargent today directed Department of Community Affairs Commissioner Leon Charkoudian to inform members of local housing authorities throughout the Commonwealth that elderly persons paying more than 20 percent of their income for rent in state-aided housing projects will receive automatic rent reductions effective Dec. 1.

The Governor's directive paves the way for full implementation of measures supported by the Governor and enacted in the past legislative session to impose rent ceilings for elderly persons in housing projects, and increase state assistance to housing authorities to compensate them for any lost revenues resulting from the reduction.

As specified under the terms of Chapter 853m, rent in elderly housing projects cannot be higher than 20 percent of a resident's income (25 percent if the local housing authority pays utilities). After the effective date of the rent reductions, new tenants in public housing projects for the elderly shall not be required to pay more than 20 percent of their income for rent.

Men looking for trouble soon find it's looking for them.

Sisterhood To Present Production

Plans are underway for the Temple Emanuel of Lawrence Sisterhood to present "The Proposition" Theatre on Saturday, Dec. 5, at 8:30 p.m. at Temple Emanuel Auditorium, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence.

The Proposition is the country's youngest, only musical completely spontaneous, satiric improvisational revue. The whole point about The Proposition is that no two performances are alike. Every show is improvised from beginning to end, based entirely on suggested situations, words, and topics from the audience. Phrases, psychological problems, political issues or public personalities are in minutes turned into five-minute encounters, a musical comedy between Spiro Agnew and Golda Meir, a psycho-drama featuring a bed-wetter, a paranoic and a nymphomaniac.

The revue is decidedly satiric, its thrust being middle class, middle brow Americana; and actors work continually to pursue the humor and to parody the cliches in the everyday.

A totally creative and artistically demanding presentation, The Proposition is the kind of theatre that is completely uninhibited and socially very important.

Tickets will be available to the general public at $5 by calling the Temple office or by calling the following members of the ways and means committee: Mesdames Howard Ponty, Robert H. Goldberg, H. To Hold Drug Culture Workshop

A workshop for parents in understanding and dealing with the Drug Culture and other relevant social problems will be held at the Christian Formation Center, River Road, Andover, Mass. for three consecutive Mondays, Nov. 2, 9, and 16 at 8 p.m. This workshop is designed to provide an opportunity for parents to explore the drug culture and to examine other relevant social problems in today's society.

During the workshop sessions participants will address themselves as they would in parent to parent, and parent to child relationships, through role playing. This is done non-professionally, acting out the various situations now causing reason for concern. Parents place themselves in the present day roles of their children, who term themselves for the most part misunderstood, unfairly treated, too restricted and in some cases too freely granted any and every request by parents too complacent to refuse, or parents whose indifference often causes a child to feel unwanted.

The workshop is intended for the purpose of creating better understanding and knowledge of what it is like to be confronted with problems that appear to be unique. The workshop is geared to honest communication and aimed to give better insights into the problems of those confronted with what appears as unbreakable and unsurmountable barriers.

The workshop will be conducted by Mr. Robert Egan, cofounder of the Institute for Communication and Group Dynamics. Mr. Egan was educated at Suffolk University and Harvard, in psychology and social relations.

With UNICEF's help, the death rate from malaria among children has been lowered from 3.5 million in the fifties to less than one million per year.

School Planning Accelerated

The Doherty School Addition Building committee is moving with dispatch in an effort to provide plans and bids for the school to be submitted at the March town meeting.

The committee has been and will continue to meet frequently, according to James J. St. Germain, chairman, in order to recoup lost time which is the result of waiting for funds from two town meetings.

The committee is scheduled to meet again tonight with the architect to discuss the structure of the building and such items as use of steel, brick, concrete other materials and such items as where to install carpeting and air conditioning.

Engineering surveys have been underway, not only for the building but for the development of the playground as well.

An engineering team was at the school one day last week. When the youngsters attending classes turned into sidewalk superintendents and tossed a bevy of questions at the engineers, they decided it best to return on Saturday rather than being forced to ignore the youthful inquisitiveness.

Under study is a change in the plans for the cafeteria and gymnasium areas, in an effort to properly delineate the two sections. There will be 800 to 900 square feet added to the two areas, but the total square footage of the proposed building will be maintained. The added space will be obtained by elimination of storage areas and other items deemed less essential than the increased rooms.

While the schedule will be tight, St. Germain remains hopeful that the plans for the $1,900,500 school will be ready for the voters in March.

Servello Addresses Accountants

The Merrimack Valley Chapter of the National Association of Accountants held its monthly discussion meeting Wednesday night, Oct. 21, 1970 at the Andover Country Club. Thomas F. Cooney was chairman of the event. Speaker for the evening was Anthony L. Servello of Western Electric Company.

Mr. Servello's topic was "The Accounting - Auditing Interface." He emphasized the new emerging role of the auditor as the eyes and ears of management in a role which he defined as operational auditing. He stated that no longer is the auditor looked upon solely as a balancer of books. He stated that the basic objective of the present day auditor is to prevent problems from occurring, rather than to uncover existing problem situations.

Mr. Servello is a graduate of King's College, in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in accounting. He later continued his study at Lehigh University and was subsequently awarded a Masters degree in Business Administration.

Mr. Servello joined Western Electric's Allentown, Pa. Works in 1957 as a staff trainee. He held various accounting and auditing assignments before his promotion to section chief and transfer to headquarters in New York in 1962. He came to the Merrimack Valley Works as department chief, auditing, in 1964 and assumed responsibility for auditing all operations in the works.

In September, 1970, he was transferred to the vice president's staff, Boston Area, and became responsible for compiling and analyzing all accounting results and forecast data for which the vice president, manufacturing - transmission equipment is responsible.

Mr. Servello and his wife Jean, have three children and currently reside in Andover.

To Plan Pollution Control

Robert A. Podesta, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development, today announced approval of $99,981 grant to help plan pollution abatement and economic growth of the Merrimack River Basin in New Hampshire and Massachusetts.

The Lowell Technological Institute Research Foundation (Massachusetts) is the applicant for the funds from the Economic Development Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

The project involves preparation of a comprehensive long-range plan to improve the quality of water in the river without causing major industrial dislocations.

Podesta said the study, which will be conducted under the supervision of the Federal Water Quality Administration, will include:

The development of a monitoring system on river quality and waste-treatment plant operations.

An analysis of the waste-disposal problems of communities in the Merrimack River Basin.

A review of coordinated actions by other communities in operating waste-treatment facilities.

The study is expected to help Lowell and other communities in the basin reduce the costs of meeting newly established State stream standards.

The Merrimack River Basin extends from the White Mountains of New Hampshire into central and northeastern Massachusetts. The principal tributaries of the Merrimack River drain a 5,010-square-mile area. Population centers in the basin are Concord, Manchester and Nashua, New Hampshire; and Lowell, Andover, Methuen, Lawrence, Haverhill, Fitchburg and Leominster, Mass. Lowell Technological Institute will provide $9,998 to meet the $109,979 total cost of the study announced today.

In addition to helping prevent dislocation of existing industry, Institute officials say the river basin planning program will help make the area attractive to firms seeking locations for new plants.

Podesta said, "EDA will continue to work with Lowell Technological Institute to help assure that this project brings the maximum benefit to the people of the Merrimack River Basin."

What is Christian Science?

It is a religion based on the words and works of Christ Jesus. It has helped many like you to prove in a measure the meaning of Christ Jesus' promise:

"He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also." It shows the scientific basis of Christianity and how to avail yourself of the laws of God in everyday life.

If you would like to learn more about Christian Science, you are welcome to come to our Reading Room and to read this week's Bible Lesson.

Great Books

The Great Books Discussion Group met on Oct. 27 and talked about Sophocles' great play Antigone. The last two meetings of the group have been filled with excited opinions and strong feelings, a sure indication of discussion based on an interesting book. For the next meeting the group will read Revolt of the Masses by Ortega y Gasset and the discussion will be held at the library on Nov. 10. Everyone is invited to join at 7:30 p.m. in the Print Room of the library and participate in the discussion.

Garden Clubs

Memorial Hall Library will be a more beautiful place to visit from now on due to the generous arrangements of the four Garden Clubs in Andover. The Andover Garden Club, Four Seasons Garden Club, Village Garden Club and Spade and Trowel Garden Club have divided the year and different members from each club will contribute arrangements so that Memorial Hall Library will have flowers for every season. This is a fine example of community pride in the town library for which the staff is indeed grateful.

Story Hour

On Nov. 3 and 4, the Robins and then the Goldfish will meet in the Children's Room at 10 a.m.

Preparations

Books which present Christmas ideas of things to make and to cook will be on display for the next few weeks. They may be taken out for one week only.

Appointed To Committees At Harvard

The Board of Overseers of Harvard University has appointed residents of this community to Visiting Committees for 1970-1971. The 44 Visiting Committees provide a link between the various university departments and alumni and friends of the university.

The committees meet with faculty members and visit classrooms, libraries, laboratories, museums and other university facilities. Through these close contacts the committees learn the operations and needs of each department. The distinguished members of the Visiting Committees bring a fresh viewpoint in their reports to the Board of Overseers on the effectiveness of each department's work.

In addition, the Committees serve as a liaison between the departments and educational foundations and individuals outside the University.

Typically, a committee works with a single school, department or institution within the university. Each is chaired by an overseer.

Serving from Andover are:

Frederick S. Allis, Jr., 21 Phillips St., Harvard University Press.

Rev. John Crocker, 34 Phillips St., a member of the Harvard Board of Overseers, to the committee on classics and romance languages and literature.

John M. Kemper, headmaster of Phillips Academy, to the Harvard College committee.

Phillips, Abbot Groups In Concert

One hundred and twenty five musicians at Abbot and Phillips Academies in Andover are preparing a concert of sacred music to benefit the Andover Community ABC (A Better Chance) Program. The concert, "The Lord is My Shepherd", will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 15, in the Cochran Chapel, Chapel Ave., Phillips Academy. The collection, taken during the concert, will assist in the funding of the next three years of ABC at the Andover High School.

All of the works in the concert are based on the 23rd Psalm. They include a Cantata by J. S. Bach, and one by the modern composer Alan Hovhaness. The Fidelio Society and a Cappella Chorus of Abbot Academy (Rowland Sturges, director), the Phillips Academy Chorus (William L. Schneider, director), and the Abbot-Phillips Chamber Orchestra (F. DeWitt Thornton, director) are being assisted by some of the finest soloists in the greater Boston area.

The solo portions of the Bach Cantata (No. 112) will be sung by Miss Jean Gay, Miss Jan Curtis and Ivan Oak. Mr. Oak is the voice teacher at Phillips Academy. Joining the combined choruses, orchestra, and vocal soloists are Jerold Kayden and Charles Williams, both P.A. seniors, playing solo trumpet and violin.

Perry Babb, solo clarinet, also a senior at Phillips, will play the traditional Scottish folk setting of "The Lord's My Shepherd," often referred to as "Brother James' Air," in an instrumental transcription for a solo wind and strings by Mr. Schneider.

Miss Adele Babcock, voice instructor at Abbot Academy, will sing a group of 20th century settings of the Psalm.

Others assisting in the concert are the accompanists, Miss Elizabeth Roberts of Abbot, George Loring, P.A. '71, and Lorene Santa, organist at the Cochran Chapel.

Music To Our Ears

By Edward P. Grigoli

After each playing, the saxophone should be turned bottom side up so that the water runs out of the bell. The outside of the instrument should be wiped with a soft lintless cloth to remove fingermarks, thus preserving the finish. The mouthpiece, like the clarinet's should be washed in warm water (not hot). After each playing the mouthpiece should be swabbed with a cloth, small enough to fit through. Do not force or pull cloth through quickly. The key bearings (where the keys pivot) should be oiled frequently with key oil which can be purchased in a music store. The reeds should be kept in a protective reedguard case when not in use. Do not leave the mouthpiece on the neck of the saxophone. This will squeeze the cork so that turning becomes impossible unless the neck is recorked. A light coat of vaseline will lubricate joints which fit too snugly. When pads are worn or ruptured they should be replaced by a repair man.

Do not try to repair your own instrument. (any instrument) Take it to your teacher, music store or repair shop when it is not working properly.

The inside of wooden and metal clarinets should be swabbed after each use. A small piece of chamois with a string attached to a corner of it and a weight on the other end of the string is best. Mouthpieces should be kept clean by washing with warm water and soap (never hot water). They should be dried with a soft cloth after use. Never force a swab through them or pull a swab through rapidly. Reeds should be kept on glass with rubber bands, or in a reedguard case when not in use. The key mechanism should be kept clean, and bearings should be oiled with key oil when they seem dry. If pads are worn or ruptured they should be replaced by a repair man.

Rub a small amount of cork grease into the corks frequently and clean the corks with a cloth moistened with rubbing alcohol regularly.

Coffee Hour For West School PTO

On Wednesday morning, Oct. 21, the mothers of children enrolled in the West School's afternoon kindergarten sessions were the guests of the school at a coffee hour.

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 22 those mothers whose children were enrolled in the morning kindergarten sessions were guests at a similar welcoming program.

The kindergarten children acted as hosts and hostesses for their mothers and led them around to see their work and to meet their teachers, Mrs. "Peg" Turgiss, Mrs. Louisa Bradford, Mrs. Leslie Whitley and Mrs. Gerry West. Then, while the children went to see a film strip, the teachers talked to the mothers about plans for the 1970-71 school year. Mrs. Iora Alexander, guidance director at West School, spoke to the mothers about some of the varied special services offered at the school, remedial reading, speech therapy and guidance.

Plans were also announced for the next meeting of the West School PTO which will be held on Dec. 2 when Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools, will be the speaker.

Steering Committee Named

William J. Igoe, director of guidance of Andover Public Schools, has organized a guidance steering committee made up of parents who have students enrolled in the Andover Public School system. Mr. Igoe feels that such a committee would be of great value in developing better communication between the schools and the community. The purpose of this committee will be to acquaint the townspeople with the various programs which now exist in the school system and to keep the parents informed of not only our present goals and objectives but out future plans to meet the interests and needs of the students attending the Andover Public Schools.

The steering committee will also discuss the possibility of developing an in-service program in the evenings for parents. Topics will be selected by the steering committee members based on a survey of other parents in their school district. The committee members will also assist the guidance staff in developing a program of guidance aides made up of interested citizens of the community. Mr. Igoe feels that there are a number of areas in which people could participate in the overall guidance program such as organizing a town directory of people who specialize in a particular field; for example: engineering, oceanography, business, archeology, photography, medicine, law, dentistry, drafting, nursing, etc. These resource people within the community would be of great assistance to students who will be able to get first hand knowledge of a particular field by working directly with the person who has expertise in a given field -- thus helping students in their career planning at all grade levels.

As guidance aides, parents can assist the guidance staff in carrying out follow-up studies of graduates who are either attending school or college or are in the world of work. Some of the parents will be trained to administer standardized tests, thus relieving counselors for carrying on the established guidance programs within their respective buildings.

The steering committee will meet on a monthly basis. The organizational meeting was held at the High School guidance suite last Wednesday, Oct. 28. The following parents have volunteered to serve on the committee representing their respective schools:

Andover High School, Mrs. Alfred Kleider; West Junior High, Mrs. Harold Landy; East Junior High, Mrs. Gary Stephens; Bancroft Elementary School, Mrs. Carl Ulrickson; Sanborn Elementary School, Mrs. James Gilmore; West Elementary School, Mrs. Paul Rollins and Mrs. H. Edward MacKenzie; South Elementary School, Mrs. David Doucette; Shawsheen Elementary School, Mrs. Paul Deveney and Mrs. Ross Coon; Wm. H. Doherty Elementary School, Mrs. John Carver.

Society To Open House

Again this year the Andover Historical Society will be open on the first Sunday of each month and will welcome visitors to specially arranged exhibits.

In keeping with the program theme of the year, the opening exhibit will deal with Essex County. This Sunday, Nov. 1 from 3 to 5, books, maps and documents, relating in various ways to the history of the county will be displayed.

The materials will remain on view, through Nov. 20, at the regular visiting hours, which are each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 2 to 4.

Art Work A Part Of Boutique

A new and extremely interesting feature of the Christmas Boutique to be held in the lobby of the Lawrence General Hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 4, is the exhibition and sale of paintings, drawings, crafts and sculpture done by Greater Lawrence high school students and faculty.

Participating schools are: Abbot Academy, Andover High School, Brooks School, Central Catholic High School, Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, Lawrence High School, Methuen High School, North Andover High School, Phillips Academy, Salem High School, St. Mary's High School, and St. Patrick's High School.

The Boutique sale is sponsored by the Hospitality Shop Committee of the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association, Mrs. Robert J. Scribner, chairman, and the special art exhibit and sale is under the direction of committee members, Mrs. Arthur L. Wooten and Mrs. L. Glynne Yeaton, Jr.

Boutique hours are from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. with the art work remaining on view in the hospital lobby until 8 p.m. which is the closing of regular hospital visiting hours. This time extension was arranged for the benefit of those who are vitally interested in this phase of the sale, but for reasons of school attendance or other commitments are unable to be at the hospital during scheduled sale hours.

It is hoped that this art event may develop into an annual affair, affording even greater exposure for this vast source of talent.

Proceeds from the Boutique will go to the Bon Secours - Lawrence General Joint Hospital Building Fund. This is an opportunity to own an "original" done by a local artist and to help the hospitals as well.

Retiring servicemen will be offered job opportunities through a computerized service which the Department's of Labor and Defense are developing. The service which would match a man with a job is called Program Referral.

Sedwick Promoted At Standard

Standard International Corporation has announced the promotion of Lindsay M. Sedwick to the new position of assistant controller. Formerly the director of corporate reports, Mr. Sedwick's new responsibilities will include supervision of corporate reporting and headquarters accounting.

The promotion, announced by Executive Vice President - Treasurer Warren S. Cooper, is part of a broad program designed to strengthen the accounting organization of the diversified manufacturing company. As part of this program, John J. Bentley was recently named to the position of corporate controller.

Mr. Sedwick joined Standard International in March, following five years with the Whirlpool Corporation and three years with Ernst and Ernst, Certified Public Accountants. His most recent position prior to Standard International was as Commercial Manager of the C. O. Porter Machinery Co. in Grand Rapids, Mich.

A native of Detroit, Mich., Mr. Sedwick attended Eastern Michigan University (Bachelor of Science in Business Administration - 1960) and served with the U. S. Navy from 1955 to 1957. He is a member of the Michigan Association of CPAs, the Massachusetts Association of CPAs and the National Association of Accountants. He resides in Andover, with his wife, Marcia, and their two children.

Ecology 1970

Of all the national problems that face the American people there is one that stares each person directly in the eyes: Pollution. A few years ago the fight against pollution was basically to improve the visual quality of the country. It is literally becoming a fight for life.

To win this war, every person must fight to the best of his capacities. He must refrain from using harmful pesticides; he must travel by means other than car whenever possible; he must support candidates who stress environmental issues. There is no excuse for ignoring the problem.

One of the many heads of the Hydra, pollution, is the wastage of National Resources. It has been known for some time that our country is slowly running out of irreplaceable natural fuels and minerals. Fortunately every head cut from this Hydra remains removed. The problem of wastage is especially great here in Andover where the town dump is quickly becoming full. The answer to the question of wastage is simple: Recycle. One of the easiest substances to recycle is paper. The average person uses two trees worth of paper in a year simply by subscribing to a daily paper.

The easiest way to recycle paper is by paper drives. Each piece of paper can go through recycling up to twelve times. Andover Ecology Action (a group of high school students and faculty from Andover High School, Phillips Academy and Abbot Academy) has organized a paper drive to recycle the tons of newspaper used each week in Andover, to take the load off the dump, and to raise money for lectures, films, information distribution, spring clean-ups and possibly town tree planting or other ecology related activities.

Collections of papers and magazines will start at the Andover Dump this Saturday (October 31) where we will have a truck, and continue weekly as weather permits.

If we unite against pollution we can accomplish anything. Our only enemies are the apathetic.

For RESPONSIVE Government REPRESENTATIVE

MARY B. NEWMAN

FOR SECRETARY OF STATE

BOSTON HERALD . . .

"Not only a great lady and an adornment to the House, she is also a pro."

• 16 Years In State Legislature

"I see in the office of Secretary of State a unique opportunity to give the people a service urgently needed in our state that no other office performs.

"I want to see a single source from which the citizen seeking help from his state government can get the information and direction he needs — to which he can direct his questions and complaints — which can help him to act effectively when he tries to influence or change the laws and procedures that affect his daily life.

"The office of the Secretary is the natural one to fulfill this function."

An Owl's Lair Is Unrestful

There's a grey horned owl roosting in Andover, and by the way, being tormented by some pestiferous crows and blue jays as it tries to gain its daytime rest.

The nocturnal creature was disturbed on at least two occasions this week by the tormenting crows and jays in Carmel Woods reservation.

Mrs. Watters Kellogg and Mrs. Virginia Hammond, local conservationists, were examining the conservation commission owned Carmel Woods, plotting trails, etc. when they heard the screeching of the crows and jays.

Soon after, from a pine grove, the owl changed its place of slumber, and was spotted by the two women.

The owl had little rest as the tormenting birds found it once again and forced it from its roost.

Other birds, such as jays and crows, do not attack or harm owls, they just apparently can't see anything beneficial about sleeping during the day.

But above all, the activity proves that conservation works, since such creatures as owls, find Andover a pleasant place to repose -- if it weren't for those other birds.
